Korean Truce Imminent As Reds Get Delay

Twister Cuts Down Sunday Dinner Group

Arcadia, Neb. (AP) — A tornado yesterday struck a farm near Arcadia where 10 persons were holding an informal family reunion, instantly killing all 10 and leveling the farm home and buildings.

"There wasn't a stick of anything left on the place," said Arthur Riedesel of nearby Loup City, who visited the farm.

Even trees were clipped off so that only stumps stood a foot or two above the ground.

Also leveled was a farm just across the road where a two-story stone house was "blown to smithereens," Riedesel said. Six persons on the second place, one of them a passing motorist, escaped injury by hiding in a storm cave just six feet from the house.

The 10 dead were on the Madsen farm five miles east of Arcadia. Children and grandchildren of the Madsens had just had their customary Sunday family dinner and probably were sitting in the house where they couldn't see the funnel of the tornado.

Mr. and Mrs. Madsen, both about 60.

Their son, Virgil, Central City, Neb.

Their daughter, Mrs. Dolly Johnson, a teacher at Central City.

Mrs. Johnson's two children, a son, 11, and a daughter, 10.

Another daughter of the Madsens, Mrs. Jack Witte, and her three children, Thelma, Patty and Gary.

The farm across the road, also hit, belonged to Guy Lutz.

Huddled in the storm cellar as the roaring twister passed over were Mr. and Mrs. Lutz, their three children and the motorist, en route from Illinois to Broken Bow to attend a funeral.

One of the Lutz children was a two-week old baby.

The motorist's name was not obtained. He saw the storm coming and took refuge with the Lutz family.

Rains had preceded the tornado and a dead calm was the tip-off that the storm was upon them, the Lutz said. While others huddled in the cave, Mr. Lutz saw the twister come over the hill from the southwest and said: "Let's duck."

The tornado's path was about a mile long. Nearly farms escaped all but minor damage.

Another twister did damage to farms and a school east of Mason City, Neb.

Budget Puzzler May Send Legislature Into Still Another Recess To July 4

Harrisburg, (AP) — The State Legislature returns to work today for another try at the same budget puzzle facing it at the beginning of the 1953 session five months ago.

With a one week enforced recess under their belts veteran lawmakers held little hope for a quick final adjournment. Only another mandatory recess—probably lasting until after Independence Day—is in prospect.

The recesses are necessary because of the prior commitment of hotel accommodations in Harrisburg, leaving Assembly members no place to sleep if they remain at work.

All eight taxes mentioned by Gov. John S. Fine as ones he might be forced to sign come up for serious consideration at a Republican caucus early this afternoon.

However, a program patched together from these levies would have rough going, predicted a GOP leader who declined quotation by name.

"Too many of those tax recommendations are objectionable," the same man said. "There's a question if there would be enough votes to pass such a package."

The governor mentioned the taxes in telling a joint session he felt about specific proposals. He maintains he has not recommended any particular tax.

At the same time Fine reduced his estimate of new revenue needs to meet a $1,400,000,000 budget from 157 to 118 millions. The money covers state government operations for the two years beginning last Monday.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, the Republican leader in the House, still refuses to place himself against any such tax package. He insists that the one per cent sales tax was and is the "logical" way of balancing the budget.

The sales tax proposal was side-tracked last month following failure of the Republican House majority to line up enough votes for its passage.

The House this week has an opportunity to act upon a trio of major proposals of the State Government Survey Chesterman Committee.

Three bills, the only ones to gain Senate approval from a total of 11 major suggestions, have reached the floor of the House. One would abolish the Commerce Department and another would unite the Departments of Health, Welfare and Public Assistance.

The Chesterman bills are ready for debate and could be voted upon by Tuesday.

Mrs. Roeber Released On $20,000 Bail

Mrs. Sonya Roeber, 36, Swiftwater, charged with murdering her husband, Malcolm, was free on $20,000 bail yesterday.

Bail was set by President Judge Fred W. Davis Saturday after a 50-minute hearing in county court. Mrs. Roeber was present. She wept once during the proceedings.

Mrs. Roeber's family engaged Attorney Forrest Mervine of Stroudsburg Saturday morning to act as Mrs. Roeber's counsel.

Mervine made an oral motion to the court that in effect asked if the court intended to set bail, and if so at what figure.

Hearings invariably are held on such motions in order to put information on record for use of the court.

The hearing lasted from 12:30 p.m. to 1:20 p.m. Sole witness was Pfc. Joseph Mekuta, Mount Pocono trooper assigned to investigate after Roeber's death Thursday.

He was examined by District Attorney Elmer D. Christine and cross-examined briefly by Mervine. It was during Mekuta's testimony that Mrs. Roeber wept as she sat next to Mrs. Jacob Altemose, wife of the county sheriff.

Mervine argued in favor of setting of bail.

After argument of counsel, Judge Davis formally set the bail at $20,000.

Also present in court throughout the hearing were Mrs. Roeber's father, Stanley Sopko, and brother, Steven Sopko, both of Pocono Pines, and Raymond Lutz, Tannersville garage owner, all of whom served as sureties for Mrs. Roeber's bail.

Immediately after the hearing Mrs. Roeber went to the office of Prothonotary James Gould and signed the bail piece. Then she was released.

Sheriff and Mrs. Jacob Altemose left Stroudsburg at 7 a.m. Saturday to bring Mrs. Roeber back from Lackawanna County Jail in Scranton.

Returning to Stroudsburg about 9 a.m. they took Mrs. Roeber to Mr. Christine's East Stroudsburg office. There, with Pfc. Mekuta present, she signed the statement she had made previously.

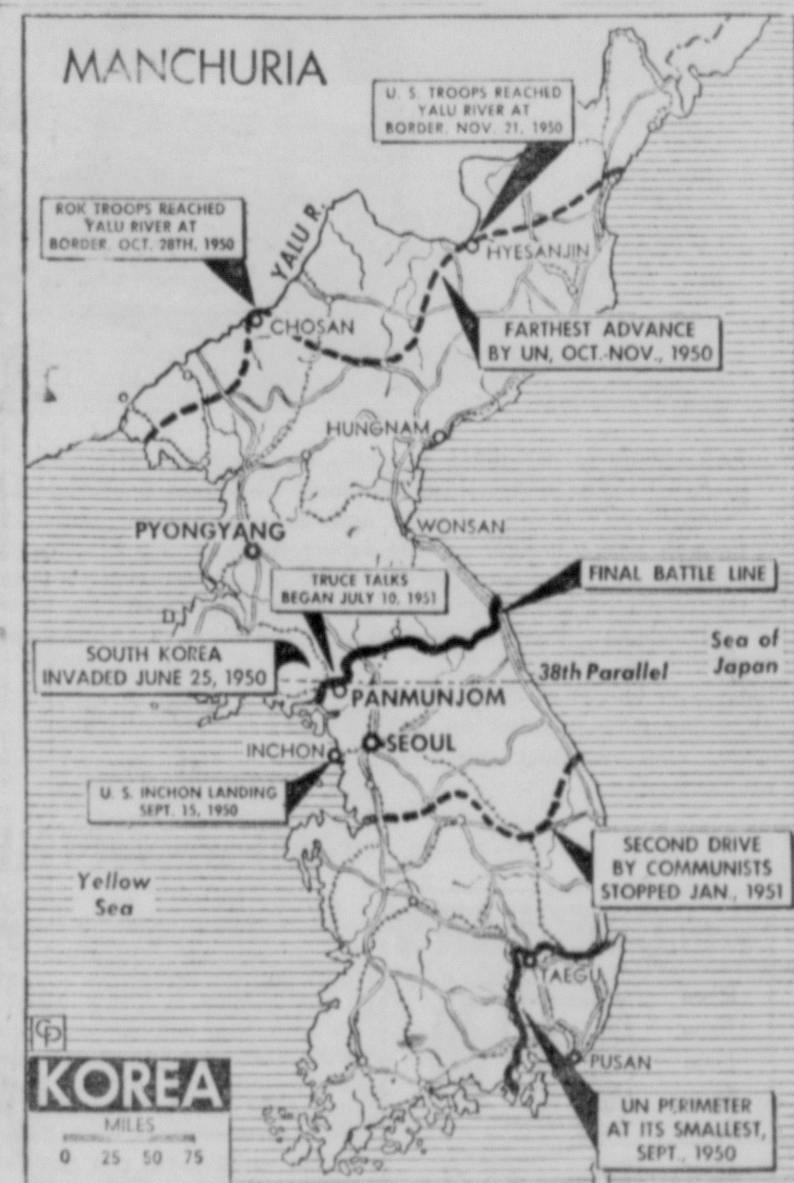

Then after some conversation and questioning she was taken to the courthouse for the hearing on setting of bail.

Mrs. Roeber, mother of three sons and an infant daughter, has told authorities her husband, a 41-year-old stone mason, was intoxicated early Tuesday morning and he and Mrs. Roeber quarreled. Roeber reached for a rifle and started to load it, she claimed. After that Mrs. Roeber said, she hit her husband over the head with an earthenware gallon jug.

Roeber received hospital treatment for the injury, went home, went back to the hospital Wednesday. He died at the hospital the following day because of the head injuries, authorities said.

Mrs. Roeber was arraigned Friday in Stroudsburg. She pleaded innocent, and was bound over to the September grand jury.

Private services for Roeber will be held at 2 p.m. today at Gantz-horn funeral home, Tannersville, with burial at Swiftwater Cemetery.

Broad Cut-Back In Vets Aid Spending Scheduled To Go Before Congress

Washington, (AP) — A broad cut-back in the expanding multi-billion dollar program of government spending for veterans is to be proposed to Congress this week, it was reported yesterday.

The spending limitations are expected to be recommended by the House Appropriations Committee in submitting a $4,300,000,000 money bill to the House June 16 to finance the Veterans Administration for the 1954 fiscal year starting in July.

The proposed cut-backs will not apply to hospitalization and medical care, except as they affect veterans with ailments not connected with military service.

The committee gave advance notice last week that it was restoring budget cuts in the hospital program recommended by President Eisenhower, and even adding six million dollars more than was asked in former President Truman's budget.

Informed sources said the House, however, will be asked to attach spending limitations to the appropriation bill to curb what some members regard as abuses and non-essential services.

In brief, they propose to:

One—Stop unlimited free dental care to veterans long after they are out of service. It has been estimated this would save 20 millions annually.

Two—Tighten up the entitlement of veterans to free hospital and medical care where they are able to pay. This would not affect veterans with ailments directly caused by their war service, or who are unable to pay, but the VA would be required to investigate any statement of inability to pay in the future.

Three—Eliminate the interest "gratuity" now paid veterans getting a GI home loan guarantee. This payment represents the first year's interest on the loan and was intended to give the veteran a financial breathing spell. It costs an estimated 60 millions annually.

Four—Cut from $150 to $1 the fee now paid per month per student to colleges by the VA for reporting veterans on school rolls under the GI educational program. The reporting fee was authorized to prevent schools from continuing to collect fees on students who withdrew.

Two Year Talks Edge Toward End Of Peace Efforts

Panmunjom, Monday (AP) — Korean armistice delegates met for 12 minutes today in what appeared to be the final hours of the two-year-old talks and then recessed for 10 minutes at Communist request.

Just before the recess ended, the Reds asked that it be extended another 10 minutes and the Allies agreed.

The truce delegates reconvened briefly and then recessed at 11:46 a.m. "by mutual agreement" until this afternoon. The time of this afternoon's session was to be announced later.

Before the truce delegates sat down across the table in the faded conference hut, staff officers had completed a morning session on administrative details of prisoner exchange.

There now seemed no doubt that, despite the boiling resentment in South Korea to the terms, the two sides had reached agreement for a general armistice, although formal signing may be a week or more away.

Liaison officers were meeting two hours ahead of the full-dress sessions to work on the mechanics of an exchange of 125,000 Communist prisoners for about 12,000 Allied captives.

While Rhee was non-committal, some South Korean leaders were dissatisfied with Eisenhower's letter to Rhee and feared lingering doubts that a truce was close at hand.

"The moment has now come," he said, "when we must decide whether to carry on by warfare a struggle for the unification of Korea or whether to pursue this goal of political or other methods."

So urgent was the matter, that Gen. Mark Clark, U. N. Far East commander, braved the winds of an approaching typhoon and flew the letter to Rhee personally in Seoul. After conferences with Rhee and U. S. Ambassador Ellis Briggs, Clark flew back to Tokyo.

Eisenhower said the U. S. would work "by all peaceful means" for unification of Korea and promised that the U. S. would negotiate a mutual defense treaty after the truce is signed. He also pledged continued economic aid.

In the fast moving truce situation, there were these developments:

One—South Korea withdrew entirely from the Panmunjom negotiations Sunday by pulling out its last offices from the United Nations Staff. Spokesman said they were withdrawn because "everything is settled and there is nothing left to observe."

Two—The South Korean government imposed "extraordinary security measures" throughout the country because of the "present political situation."

Three—The South Korean government recalled all its officers now undergoing training in the United States and cancelled the scheduled departure of others, including 15 generals. Among those called home was four-star Gen. Paik Sun Yup, chief of staff.

Four—The U. N. prisoner of war command stepped up its broadcasts to anti-Communist prisoners, informing them that they will not be forced to return to Communist-run North Korea and Red China against their will.

Five—The Allied command, in anticipation of a truce, picked the officers who will serve on the military armistice commission that will police a truce. Other preparations either were completed or underway.

Six—Allied authorities said the U. N. Command now holds just under 125,000 North Korean and Chinese prisoners. Of these between 75,000 and 78,000 have said they want repatriation and would be sent home immediately after a truce. Some 48,500 refuse repatriation and their fate would be decided by truce terms to be decided at the Panmunjom talks.

Perhaps the least responsive to the latest developments were the combat soldiers at the front. For the most part, many were not fully abreast of the many-sided and still unfolding story.

A sampling of reaction among U. S. soldiers showed many skeptical until the armistice document is signed and sealed.

The move that brought the negotiations to this climatic moment was an Allied proposal of May 25 setting terms for handling the 48,500 Allied held prisoners unwilling to return to Communism.

Urges Defenses
Canton, N. Y., (AP) — Sherman Adams, No. 1 assistant to President Eisenhower, declared yesterday a Korean truce would still leave the free world in danger. He cautioned against any defense letdown lest it invite an atomic attack by Russia.

Indecision Strikes Rhee On Ike's Letter

With U. S. 1st Corps, Korea, Monday, (AP) — President Syngman Rhee said today he had not yet decided whether he would accept terms outlined by President Eisenhower's letter appealing for co-operation and acceptance of an armistice.

The Republic of Korea chief executive was interviewed briefly following a speech at the U. S. 1st Corps in which he said:

"We cannot surrender to the Communists after all the sacrifices you have made and we have made."

Correspondents later asked Rhee, "Do you accept the terms in the Eisenhower letter?" They referred to the letter delivered to Rhee yesterday by Gen. Mark Clark and U. S. Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs.

"I have not decided yet," Rhee said and he added, referring to his speech: "I think I have said enough."

Eisenhower warned the South Koreans against a "reckless adventure," but the government official insisted that Korea might continue to fight alone and ignore an armistice if the nation were left divided.

In written answers to questions submitted by The Associated Press, Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, expressed belief the South Korean Army was not capable of sustaining a drive against the Chinese and North Korean armies.

Immediately after the Eisenhower letter was received it was read to Cabinet members at a special Sunday session with a truce "crisis" committee of 12 national assemblymen.

Some government leaders said a defense pact with the United States must be signed before and not after a truce. Some angrily urged that South Korea "fight on alone."

The letter from Eisenhower to Rhee—an appeal for understanding and co-operation and a promise of military and economic aid—was delivered to the Korean chief executive by Gen. Mark Clark, U. N. commander in chief in the Far East.

Eisenhower promised Rhee a defense pact, subject to the consent of the U. S. Senate.

"I am prepared promptly after the conclusion and acceptance of an armistice to negotiate with you a mutual defense treaty along the lines of the treaties heretofore made between the U. S. and the Republic of the Philippines, and the United States and Australia and New Zealand," he wrote.

DL-Union Negotiations Resume Today
New York, (AP) — Negotiations are scheduled to resume today in the dispute between the Delaware Lackawanna and Western Railroad and its 420 telegraphers, station agents and tower men.

A strike was scheduled to start this morning but the railroad obtained a temporary restraining order prohibiting a strike on Saturday in Federal Court at Scranton.

The order of Federal Judge Albert Watson ruled that no strike could be called by the Lackawanna division of the AFL Order of Railroad Telegraphers and set June 10 as a hearing date on the railroad's petition for a preliminary injunction to halt the strike.

At issue are 150 or more grievances, including pay adjustments and working conditions.

Pittston Mayor Dies
Wilkes-Barre, (AP) — Mayor John J. Allardice, 50, of Pittston stricken with a heart attack in his home, died later yesterday at Pittston Hospital.

De Gasperi's Center Block Is Expected To Defeat Communists By Narrow Margin

Rome (AP) — Under cloudy skies and occasional rain, millions of Italians decided in orderly voting yesterday whether they want to keep the present pro-American government of Premier Alcide De Gasperi.

Strong contingents of police and troops guarded the 48,743 polling places as Italians picked their second postwar Parliament. The polls closed at 10 p.m. and will reopen today from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m.

At stake are 530 seats in the Chamber of Deputies and 237 of the 243 Senate seats. First returns are not expected until today. Senate results will be tallied first and results on the important lower chamber may not be available until late tomorrow or early Tuesday.

By late yesterday an estimated 40 to 50 per cent of the 30,348,789 registered voters—men and women with the latter in slight majority—had cast ballots.

The Parliament's makeup will determine whether Italy is to continue its present pro-Western European, pro-American middle of the road democracy, step eastward toward the country's pro-Moscow Communists and fellow traveling extreme left Socialists, or back toward the nostalgic Monarchists, and neo-Fascists, who have shown surprising increase of strength since the end of the war.

All have made strong bids for votes. Most neutral observers, however, believed that De Gasperi's center bloc of Christian Democrats, Liberals, Republicans and moderate Socialists would win by a narrow margin the 50 per cent of the vote which would give the bloc bonus seats in the chamber.

In his first election communique, Christian Democrat Interior Minister Mario Scelba reported that voting was progressing in orderly fashion at all polling districts and that no incident worth mentioning had occurred.

Winning 50.01 per cent or more of the Chamber vote would give the center 390 or 64.5 per cent of the Chamber's 593 seats. The special "bonus" law—branded as a fraud by both extreme right and left—does not apply in the election for 237 Senate seats.

For The Record

—by Upton Sinclair
THE RUSSIANS USE MY BOOKS FOR PROPAGANDA
(One of America's most distinguished novelists, Mr. Sinclair has most recently written "The Return of Ivanly Budd.")

The people everywhere are standing on tiptoe, awaiting the ushering in of a truce in Korea.

It is not a new thrill that the people wait for, though they do seem at times to welcome thrills. They dance in the streets and throw confetti when a war hero returns, and they even scream with excitement when they go to a ballgame or to the races.

Sometimes they are so hysterical in such demonstrations that a cynical person might say, "They are still satisfied with bread and circuses as they were in the ancient Roman days. They are children, and have no sense of values."

But I, who have watched and studied these people for more than half a century, know better. I know that they do know the difference between a ballgame and an event such as a truce in Korea.

And I think that some of the

Recreation Program Is Arranged

Newfoundland Registration for the summer recreation program, to be sponsored this year by the Greene - Dreher - Sterling Joint board of education, will be held in the school from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. today.

Arthur J. Smith, coach and physical education teacher at Polk Township High school, Kresgeville, will be in charge of the program. He is a graduate of the local school, the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and has received his master's degree in physical education at the Pennsylvania State College.

The daily hours when the program will be in operation have not been fully settled at this time, Smith announced. He added that times will be somewhat dependent on the type of activity desired by parents and children.

Swimming will probably be one of the activities to be desired by a great number and plans have gone forward to have daily classes for the various age groups, Smith said.

Baseball, basketball, tennis, badminton, as well as other games and social events of various types are being planned for area children from the age of four up.

Smith also announced that parents unable to register their children today can do so any time during the three-month period. He also pointed out that children of summer visitors in the area are welcome to participate.

Concerts To Start June 18 At Tamiment

Tamiment "Music Over the Pecos" opens Thursday, June 18, with the first in a series of five concerts at Camp Tamiment.

Featured performers for the 1953 chamber music festival will again be the Curtis String Quartet and the New Chamber Orchestra of Philadelphia.

Still in its experimental stage last summer the Tamiment festival attracted thousands of music lovers from the Pecos and as far away as New England and the Midwest.

The Curtis Quartet, widely-acclaimed by critics and audience alike, and the New Chamber Orchestra played to capacity audiences for five days. As a result, the two groups were immediately booked for return performances.

Works to be included on the 1953 summer program are by Dohnanyi, Cesar Franck, Joseph Haydn, Mendelssohn, Bach, Beethoven and Vivaldi.

In addition to the two top chamber music organizations, music enthusiasts will be given performances by four major soloists.

These are Joseph de Pasquale, solo violinist with the Boston Symphony; Samuel Mayes, solo cellist with the same orchestra; Guido Meoli, clarinetist and Vladimir Sokoloff, pianist.

Conductor of the New Chamber Orchestra will again be Ior Jones, whose work with musical groups in Philadelphia and elsewhere has earned him a wide reputation.

The office of Dr. E. J. Denning will be closed from June 6th to June 15th. Adv.

For the Record

—by Upton Sinclair

THE RUSSIANS USE MY BOOKS FOR PROPAGANDA

Hysteria which they feel is due to the cruel intentions of the Cold War.

Knowing that this brutal Cold War is in no wise of our making, one sometimes wonders if there can be a realization in the minds of the Russian rulers of the ever-increasing anger and indignation which they are building up against themselves.

The American people, once so kind in their feeling toward Russia, so sure that their wartime ally truly meant it when it said that Communism and democratic free enterprise could co-exist peacefully—these people, betrayed again and again by this false promise, are, alas, learning to hate!

This is indeed a terrible development. Hatred is a poison which, if widely spread and deeply enough felt, can lead even the most patient human beings to rash and unreasonable actions.

There are many people now who say, "Let's end this bloodletting in Korea! Let's turn loose our most terrible weapons on the aggressors!"

Also, there is still fresh in the minds of most of us the memory of the genuine affection we felt for the people of China. But this memory has become stained with the blood of our boys, and the boys of our U. N. allies, and our hearts are cold, with the white heat of ice.

The worst of this terrible situation is that this bitter hatred is being spread throughout China and Russia, this time by tremendous propaganda.

The helpless and ignorant peoples of those countries are being systematically taught that Americans are villainous, are bent upon the destruction of the Chinese and Russian peoples.

Recently an American newspaperman described a drama which he had witnessed in Moscow, in which American businessmen and officials were portrayed as uttering hideous cynicisms and committing all kinds of rascalties. This kind of thing goes on day and night, in books, the newspapers and the radio.

I have reason for especial concern about this, for I have written many books critical of social evils in my own country. I know that these books are being used in the Soviet Union today to make people believe that these conditions exist in America at the present time. This is, of course, a fantastic falsehood.

"The Jungle," an expose of the dreadful working conditions in U. S. stockyards, was published in 1906. Since then have come the New Deal and the Fair Deal; the stockyards' workers have strong unions, and so many social benefits that it would take another book to tell about them.

I have told about them in other books—but these, alas, the Russian and Chinese peoples are not permitted to know about.

I hate lying and I hate hatred; but I have to live in a world that is full of both. All I can do is to speak the truth whenever an occasion arises. And the truth of 1953 is not the truth of 1906.

Urges Understanding

London, U.P.—Gen. George C. Marshall asked the British public to resist Soviet propaganda attempts to hank a warmonger tag on the United States.

June Vacations

It's June, and the vacation season is upon us. It is the season when from one-half to two-thirds of the families in any given community, but more so in the metropolitan regions, expect to go somewhere during their vacations. This isn't unusual—except for this region where we find it profitable to stay and enjoy all that attracts others here. Some who go on vacations may suffer an assortment of discomforts they would not have at home—sunburn, poison ivy, flat tires—but it will be worth it. They will have lived a life that they don't live at home. Even if it just makes them appreciate their home more, it will be worth while.

No Place to Hide

A committee of scientists and industrialists under the leadership of M. J. Kelly of the Bell Telephone Laboratories has reported to the Department of Defense that there is a sure defense against an atomic attack short of the abolition of war. The plain truth is that nothing can be done to make a nation invulnerable to attack, no matter how many dollars it might spend. The responsibility of world government makes the best defense against war lie in the field of statesmanship. Under the leadership of President Eisenhower, the United States will be made capable of returning any attack in a swift and sure manner. No other course is open to a democracy. We will never attack first; we cannot be made immune from attack; but we will be ready to reply.

Risky Charity

The amount of surplus food and other crops now in the hands of the Government is enormous, and apparently will grow larger this year. It represents more than a billion dollars of the taxpayers' money, and storage space is so short that some of the surplus wheat has had to be put into idle war-surplus ships. For that reason, the novel proposal by the Farm Bureau Federation for getting rid of the surpluses probably will receive serious consideration, despite its disturbing aspects. The Bureau proposes that the surpluses be sold to the so-called backward nations where our Point Four program functions. The goods would be paid for in local currencies, that being the only way those countries could pay for them, and the money would be spent on Point Four programs there. The most compelling argument against the Bureau's proposal, however, is that such a disposal program would strengthen the hand of the high-price-support bloc in Congress, and increase the likelihood of the present wastefully high support prices becoming permanent. As soon as we had gotten rid of the existing surpluses the Government would accumulate more, if the present price-supports remained in effect. Then there would be pressure to make this foreign disposal program permanent. It is easier to start that kind of a merry-go-round than to stop it.

THE UGLY DUCKLING

Robert S. Allen Reports

Democrats Organizing Truman Home-Coming Week

Washington—Democratic leaders are quietly organizing a spirited "homecoming week" for former President Harry Truman's visit to the Capital late this month. His first trip here since leaving the White House will last three days, June 22-25. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Truman and daughter Margaret.

The program for their stay is still incomplete, but it already calls for a day-and-night round of conferences, luncheons, dinners, receptions and other affairs—all Democratic and heavily overlaid with politics.

However, Mr. Truman will do no public talking while in Washington.

But he will do a lot of it privately at a series of meetings with congressional and National Committee leaders; among them National Chairman Stephen Mitchell, who will report on recent tours of the West and South, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, former Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman, former Agriculture Secretary Charles Brannan, House Leader Sam Rayburn, Tex., and Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson, Tex.

Principal events so far scheduled for Truman's stay are: Dinner by his White House staff, which has organized "The Out But Happy Club." This party will include members of the Truman cabinet and personal friends. Dinner by National Chairman Mitchell, with leaders from nearby states.

Luncheon with congressional leaders and friends. Reception for Mrs. Truman and Margaret by the Woman's National Democratic Club.

The Trumans will stay in a hotel while in the Capital. From there they will go to Philadelphia for one day and then to New York for several days, after which the former President and his wife will return directly to Independence.

He has told intimates in Washington he has received several letters from former Governor Adlai Stevenson.

Note: Truman is considering an invitation to address a non-political meeting in Madison Square Garden in early October. His talk would be broadcast over nationwide radio and TV hook-ups.

A Houdinger California's large Republican delegation in the House is buzzing with a spectacular rumor.

It has Senator William Knowland leaving Congress to head his prospects for the White House.

Following is the way this intriguing cloakroom story goes: Governor Earl Warren, who will be eligible for a $16,000-a-year state pension at the end of his present term, will not run for re-election in 1954. Instead, he will throw his powerful support behind Senator Knowland, who first came to the Capitol in 1945 by appointment by Warren to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Hiram Johnson.

Knowland, who is 45, would be taking little risk in running for Governor. Last year he was re-elected for a full term that does not expire until 1958. Thus he is sure of remaining on the national stage either as Senator or Governor.

If Knowland should become Governor, he could then be able to do for Warren what the latter did for him—appoint him to the Senate if that appeals to Warren. There is nothing to do that it does. The towering Californian is known to harbor the ambition to be a Justice of the Supreme Court. But there is no sign of an early vacancy there.

Justice Felix Frankfurter, 71, and the oldest member, could retire under the law, but has told friends he has no intention of quitting. None of the other justices are eligible to retire, and while several of them are ailing, there is no indication of an opening being imminent among them, either voluntarily or otherwise.

But either as a Senator or former Governor, Warren would be in a good position to bide his time for a Supreme Court call.

Above all, Knowland would be strategically placed to push his ambitions for the presidency. As Governor, he would have top hand in controlling California's delegation to the 1956 convention.

Knowland and Vice-President Nixon are personally on the best of terms. But Knowland is just as bent on being president as is Nixon, and if Knowland can help it, his good friend Nixon will never make it if it depends on his capturing California's delegation, now the second largest in the country.

That's the fascinating story the state's GOP congressmen are relating in the cloakrooms.

Splitting Hairs—Economy is getting to be a fighting word on Capitol Hill.

Senators Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) and Douglas (D-Ill.), both ardent advocates of economy, squared off angrily over the issue during a Senate debate. Douglas had offered several amendments to cut an appropriation bill recommended by Bridges' Committee. The latter countered by challenging Douglas' consistency on economizing.

"I have never thought," retorted Douglas, "that one must vote for every proposed cut in order to be in favor of economy. I do not claim to have perfect judgment. I can simply say that under Democratic Administrations I sought economy, at real personal cost; and I hope the Senator from New Hampshire will not accuse me of indulging in a tirade when I try to carry out the same principles when the Republicans are in power."

George Sokolsky Says ...

Glasser Hides Behind Fifth Amendment Regarding U. S. Money Plates and Reds

The Faults of UNRRA
History has a trick of unfolding the hidden and exposing the suppressed. Thus, we get an insight into the methods employed by various American agencies during the war years. The public is often shocked by such disclosures and some say that they should have been informed.

Actually, much was written about UNRRA when it was functioning. It was an unbelievably confused organization, spending American money but permitting the credit to go to Russia and satellite countries. For instance, Tito built much of his popularity by distributing UNRRA goods in his own name and never giving the United States credit.

Harold Glasser, who employed the Fifth Amendment whenever he was asked whether he was or is a Communist, was an economic adviser to Dean Acheson and Henry Morgenthau and had much to do with UNRRA. He stated before the Jenner Committee that UNRRA did not act as the Treasury desired and so an auditing firm was hired. These are his words:

"... This auditing firm submitted very critical reports of the way UNRRA was accounting for the shipment of supplies to these foreign countries, and there were, during this period, continuous reorganizations of the accounting setup in UNRRA, and of the procedures. I think by the time the program got under way, the auditors were satisfied with the procedures, but I am not too clear on that."

UNRRA's funds, provided almost solely by the United States, were to be used only in countries which lacked the ability to pay. It was the function of the Treasury to find that out and, of course, Glasser was the Treasury's man on the subject. So this colloquy occurred:

"Senator Watkins. Now, as a matter of fact, did the Treasury Department ever determine whether or not Russia could pay for the materials and the goods and the help which was given to Russia under that program?"

"Mr. Glasser. Excuse me, sir, may I consult?"

"Senator Jenner. You may consult your counsel."

(The witness conferred with his counsel.)

"Mr. Glasser. I refuse to answer that question, sir, on the ground that it may tend to incriminate me."

"Senator Watkins. You think a truthful answer to that night incriminate you?"

"So we come to the Invasion Money question. It may be recalled that plates for the printing of American money were given to Russia to print invasion money. It has not been possible to get the absolute figure as to what that enterprise cost the American people. When Harold Glasser was testifying before the Jenner Committee, he was asked about it:

"Mr. Morris. I will ask you a question now about your knowledge of the Treasury operation apart from any experience that you may have had in that operation. This is only from your formal knowledge of the Department. Are you aware of a Treasury arrangement whereby certain plates, printing plates, money printing plates, were sent to the Soviet Union?"

"Mr. Glasser. Excuse me, sir, may I consult?"

"Senator Jenner. You may consult with his counsel."

"Mr. Morris. I am asking for your formal knowledge. I want the Treasury transaction without regard to your participation in it."

"Mr. Glasser. I must refuse to answer that question, sir, on the ground that it may tend to incriminate me."

"Mr. Morris. You wouldn't even tell us whether or not there was a Treasury transaction involved in that?"

"Mr. Glasser. I must refuse to answer that question, sir."

"Mr. Morris. I take it you would also refuse to answer questions directed to your knowledge and your participation in that transaction?"

"Mr. Glasser. That is correct, sir."

The only grounds for refusing to answer can be that it would be self-incriminating to Glasser if he told the truth, which can only mean that he was a party to the transaction and that a crime was committed, for which he could still be punished. That is all that the Fifth Amendment can mean in a case like this.

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

A fellow who reads my column in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal and gives his address c/o Police Department, Levelland, Texas, makes a complaint.

I look at life the way it is actually lived, he writes, with all its pettiness and troubles. What I SHOULD do, is to write about life as it ought to be.

I don't know whether the fellow is a policeman or an inmate of the Levelland jail. In the latter case, I can see why he wants me to write about life as it ought to be. If not, he certainly should be willing to face life as it is.

At any rate, I thought about his letter so much that one night I went on an excursion to the imaginary land of Utopia, where everything is as it should be.

If you remember, Utopia was an imaginary island where everything was perfection, created in the brain of Thomas Moore more than 400 years ago.

The Utopians enjoyed complete religious tolerance. They believed money the root of all evil and dispensed with its use. They hammered gold and silver into chains for their slaves. They used these metals for slop jars and other necessary utensils.

Their "slaves" were refugees from other nations, saved from a worse fate than Utopian slavery. In this model kingdom everybody worked six hours a day, three before and three after the midday meal. In Utopia, the evening meal was a long-drawn out affair. There was music, and the children were encouraged to exhibit their powers of memory and speech.

The Utopians lived in model houses, each one with its garden where flowers and vegetables were grown, and the most successful gardeners received prizes. There were model hospitals where "scurvy" one in a while town if he should fall sick would not choose rather to go thither than lie sick at home."

But in MY Utopia things had gone even much farther. In each garden there were not only fruit trees, but apple PIE trees, ham-and-egg trees, steak trees, sliced-orange trees, and there was one tree which, if you tapped it, exuded strawberry ice-cream.

The cows' "laverets" were divided into sections. One would give milk, another pure cream, a third delicious soda pop.

No woman had to wash her clothes. When a garment was dirty, one just threw it away. New ones could be bought for less than a penny a piece in the department stores.

There were no jails because there was no crime. There were no automobiles, because people were so happy in Utopia that nobody wanted to go anywhere.

People listened to the radio only to hear the bad news from other countries; nothing interesting ever went on in their own. There were no advertisements in the Utopian newspapers and, believe it or not, there were NO commercials on television.

There were no winters, no tornadoes, no floods, no wars, no fights, no dissensions among the people.

Everything was serene and peaceful. The six-hour day of the original Utopia had been done away with and nobody worked but the "slaves." I forgot to tell you above that in every garden there was a money-tree where you could pick the bills as you needed money.

Just then I woke up. It was lucky I did. I was about ready to die from boredom.

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

Frank Pearce, Dearborn Motors president, once addressed an audience of precision tool workers some miles out of Detroit. "If you want to get off to a good start with the men," counseled a friend, "say a few kind words about old Doc Brown who was quite a hero in these parts. He died just yesterday." Accordingly, Pearce began with a eulogy of Brown and went on to declare, "Possibly you will realize what the good old Doc meant to me when I tell you that he was the man who brought me into the world." There was a roar of laughter in the hall, and the friend hissed into Pearce's ear: "Shut up, Frank! Doc Brown was a veterinarian!"

On Broadway

—by Walter Winchell

The Broadway Lights

Stage Entrance: The Critics have been conducting Graduation Exercises for Broadway Univ. ... Thespians showered with honors are Victor Moore, Shirley Booth, Geraldine Page and Roz Russell, the Phi Beta Kappa ... Rodgers & Hammerstein continue to ensue.

Joy a Moneymoon ... "Oklahoma!" "Carousel" and "South Pacific" keep discovering gold in the hinterlands while "King & I" and "Me & Juliet" play to capacity in the Mid Arena ... Four shows departed. The top clicks, however, keep playing a merry melody on the cash register ... The musical, "Carnival in Flanders" (starring Dolores Gray), is taking no risks. It will have a 4-month tryout-tour before challenging The Big Apple ... The upcoming odd title collection includes shows called "Tea for Three," "The Teahouse of the August Moon" and "Tea and Sympathy" ... Lemon, anyone?

In the Wings: Topic A at the Embers last night was "Me and Juliet" and the difference of opinion reported by reviewers and the paying patrons ... "I don't understand it," one said. "In spite of the notices you can hardly buy a seat in the orchestra and the upstairs tickets are impossible to get!" ... "No wonder," chuckled another. "Juliet always did great in the balcony."

The Cinemagiars: Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" records the music of his poetry and retains the sweeping grandeur of a timeless tragedy. The skylit of stars include Brando, Kerr, Calhern, Garson and Gielgud ... "Pony Express" offers a standard 6-shooter saga. Rhonda Fleming is the sex-shooter ... "Man on a Tightrope" presents a suspenseful thriller. Fredric March guarantees every tingle ... "Sangaree" is another 3-Doodler embellished by Arlene Dahl's 3-dimensional ahems ... "Destination Gobi" generates a live-wire adventure with Richard Widmark as the Dynamo ... "Battle Circus" is a better-than-so war flicker. If Bogart plays a media who runs a high fever when June Allyson is around ... "Savage Frontier" is another definition of boredom ... "Trail Blazers" is 33 minutes Long and a Yawn wide ... "South Sea Woman" displays heroics in the coconut country. Virginia Mayo displays the coconuts.

The Telebrities: The week's highlight was "Meet the Prez" starring Ike & Co. Their discussion of current issues was candid, intelligent and provocative. Mr. President's warm appeal was never more evident ... ABC's "Opera vs. Jazz" makes the hotcha and culecha yodeling styles a pleasant musical interlude ... "Dinner Date" was enhanced by Lee Wiley's gift for making a foreboding purr. Her version of the oldie, "I've Got a Crush on You," was made of pure honey ... There was honest sentiment in Ed Wynn's biog via "This Is Your Life" ... M. Berle's satires on George S. Kaufman and The Stock Club program were hilarious homicides ... "Meet the Press" had an articulate and stimulating guest in Korea's Ambassador to the U.S. ... He wisely noted: "When we talk about peace, we are talking about real peace. When the Reds talk about peace, they are talking about conquest."

Pearl Diving: Page Morton (the kitten on the Keys) at the Vanderbilt ... Dan Parker's (hi, Grandpa!) explosive article in True: "I Say the Boxing Business Smells" ... Bill Darnell's Decca, "Tonight, Love" ... Vera Lynn's London Record, "No More" ... The book of poems, "My Roots Are Deep," by Marjorie Bensch Kimball ... Sunny Gale's "Bring Back My Baby to Me" ... M. Stern's book, "No Innocence Abroad," which debunks map articles on Luciano and takes Time magazine apart for some of the phoniest and stantiest reportage.

The Story-Tellers: A single fact in U.S. News-World Report certifies that isolationism no longer has any basis in reality: American troops are now stationed in 49 countries ... Look's essay on brides and grooms, offers some interesting tips to newlyweds and notes what put the honey in honeymoon ... A movie map noted that when Marilyn Monroe was asked: "Wasn't it terrible to pose for the nude calendar photo?" she flipped: "Why? The room was heated!" ... Esquire credits that crack to Napoleon's sister ... Collier's debunks Arthur Schlesinger Jr. (of the N. Y. Compost) in an editorial. It reminds you that when the papers reported 13,000 Americans were killed (in the first year of the Korean war), Schlesinger conceded: "This is a terrible and tragic thing" and then disdainfully dismissed the deaths by adding: "It seems hardly an intolerable loss for a nation which killed 31,500 people in 1919 by auto accidents" ... To which the outraged editorialist retorted: "He took the casualties rather too casually for some tastes, including ours" ...

State C. Of C. Executives Open Convention At Pocono Manor

Dale H. Learn Will Welcome Members Today

The annual convention of the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce Executives opened yesterday at Pocono Manor Inn, Mount Pocono.

A program of constructive assistance to Chamber executives and their membership is planned for a three-day session that ends Tuesday, President Willis W. Jones, Scranton, announced.

The convention, expected to draw 200 chamber officials, will formally open business sessions today with a welcome by Dale H. Learn, president, Pocono Mountains Chamber.

A forum on Chamber problems will be held by Mrs. Libby Bliss, New Kensington, with participants, Don Howard, Pittsburgh; Charles Noyes, Williamsport; Fred Erugeman, York; and A. Boyer, Northampton.

Another panel on legislative matters will be directed by Joseph Galligan, Phoenixville. Other panel members are: Franklin Lichtenwalter, managing director, Pennsylvania Electric Association, Harrisburg; Dr. Leonard Fox, executive director, Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, Harrisburg; Arnold Edmonds, State Chamber of Commerce, Harrisburg; and Ray Sill, Bradford.

Convention speakers will include Dwight Havens of the U. S. Chamber's service department, Washington; John Means, Harrisburg retail trade association executive, and John Soltman, manager, northeastern division of the U. S. Chamber, New York.

Earl S. Kester, president, Allentown Chamber of Commerce, will sum up the convention by describing how a Chamber volunteer looks at Chamber executives.

Woman Hurt In Collision

Scranton—A passenger suffered two fractured ribs in the collision of two cars here at 6 p.m. Saturday on Route 611.

She was Mrs. Leonard Hensler, about 50, of Scranton, riding in the car driven by her husband as they rode southward. Mrs. Hensler was treated at the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg.

Driving north was Sidney W. Jones, 25, Scranton, who will be charged with reckless driving, said Pocono Township Policeman Carl Shick.

According to Shick, the Jones car cut across the three lanes of the highway and sideswiped the Hensler vehicle not on the driver's side but on the passenger's side. Then it swerved back across the highway and crashed head on into the guard rail, Shick said.

Damages were estimated as $500 to Hensler's car and $150 to the front end of the Jones car.

"Fresh Air" Invitations End June 12

Monroe county residents have only five days left to ask a "Fresh Air" child to spend a portion of the Summer with them.

So far only 42 young boys and girls have been asked to come to this area, according to Mrs. John Wilson, director of the Fresh Air drive in this area.

A June 12 deadline has been set for requests from county residents for the children.

The way Mrs. Wilson looks at it "There's something special about people who ask for an underprivileged city child—something warm-hearted and selfless—something we need more of in this world."

"The Stroudsburg area is a far cry from the uncomfortable conditions of poverty in the hot city," Mrs. Wilson says. "But we'll be much surprised if your generosity doesn't do something very rewarding for you, too."

"Every Fresh Air child has had a thorough medical examination," Mrs. Wilson notes. "Less than 24 hours before departure, he has had a strict nurse's examination."

Entertaining a "Fresh Air" is a matter of little concern for normal families, Mrs. Wilson declares.

"Most of the youngsters come to Friendly Towns such as Stroudsburg, expecting to live a simple family life. At the same time it can mean a happy educational experience for them."

Aside from the distinct advantages, healthwise, to be gained from a short stay in the country, the Fresh Air child will take back with him an understanding and affection for the persons with whom he has spent those fourteen days.

For most of the children, a Fresh Air vacation amounts to a brief, but invaluable, reprieve from the imprisonment of New York's stifling, coal-smoke atmosphere and cluttered, traffic-battered narrow streets.

Taking a Fresh Air child into the home involves no expense on the part of the family—other than the food which the child consumes.

The Fresh Air Fund, maintained by the New York Herald-Tribune, pays all doctor bills. In addition to this, the host family is covered by a Fund Liability Insurance policy.

With only five days left before the deadline, the following persons have asked to have Fresh Air children sent to their homes this Summer:

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Green, Stanley Smith, Charles Lasher, R. J. Levanduski, Ted Hoffman, Carl Price, John Shinn, Blair Bell, Harold Pine, Allen Waltz, Austin Blakeslee Jr., Robert Keiper, Charles Getz, N. Weaver, Elmer Mader, Edward Lewis Jr., Paul Schaller, Mrs. John Becker, Mrs. Lyda Murphy, Mrs. Fred Shoemaker have each requested one child be sent to their homes.

The following persons have requested two children: Mrs. Caroline Vinard, Mrs. Mae Crump, Mr. and Mrs. A. Alberts, Mr. and Mrs.

Brodheads, Crash Results In Damage Suit For $150,000 In New York

(Special to the Record)

New York — An auto-truck crash near Brodheads, Monroe County on June 4, 1952 that resulted in the death of a New York television actor is the basis of a $150,000 damage suit filed in Federal Court here Saturday.

Plaintiff in the suit is Mrs. Florence Jackson of New York who is administratrix of the estate of Robert Lee Davis. She is the sister of Davis, a professional dancer known for his specialty number where he danced with tables clutched in his mouth.

The defendants named in the suit are Clara Miles Schreyer, Francis H. Miles and Thomas H. Miles, doing business as the T. H. Miles Oil Company, 305 Railroad Avenue, Milton, and Robert H. Lewisburg, a driver of one of the firm's trucks.

Davis was killed in the crash between his auto and the truck at Routes 115 and 209 in Chestnuthill Township. The suit charges negligence on the part of Border and the oil company in causing the accident and Davis' death.

William Wildrick, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Burton George, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Knowles, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hufsmith.

Mr. and Mrs. Holt Wyckoff, Stroudsburg, have asked to have three Fresh Air children sent to them for the vacation period.

All other persons interested in playing host to a Fresh Air child (or children) should contact Mrs. John Wilson at 3901-R.

Time is important. Local requests must be in not later than Friday, June 12.

The office of Dr. E. J. Denning will be closed from June 6th to June 15th.—Adv.

Two Wrecks Occur At Same Intersection

Two nearly-identical accidents occurred at Ninth and Main Sts., Stroudsburg, at 11:40 p.m. Saturday and again at 11:50 a.m. yesterday.

In the first collision, police said Joseph S. Wallace, 47, of 608 Bryant St., Stroudsburg, was driving east on Main St. His car collided with one driven south from Ninth St. Damages were estimated as $200 to Wallace's car and $125 to the other auto, operated by Angelo A. Napoli, 44, Philadelphia.

In the other accident Donald J. Glasco, Camden, N. J., was driving east on Main St. His car collided with one driven north from Ninth St. by Edward D. Jacoby, 30, of 732 Ann St., Stroudsburg, police said. No estimate was available of damages to the right side and rear of Glasco's car and the front end of Jacoby's.

Keller Gets Full Meaning Of High Price Of Shopping

An ordinary shopping trip cost Roy W. Keller, East Stroudsburg, about $150 Saturday in Stroudsburg. Keller, a 30-year-old TV repairman from 60 Grand St., parked his car in front of Ted Getz clothing store on the north side of Main St. He took out his wallet, got some change out of it and put it in the meter.

It was about 10 a.m. He went across the street to the A&P for groceries. When the groceries were loaded into paper bags and cartons, he pulled out his wallet to pay the check. No money—except for the bit of change.

Presbyterian Church Scene Of Double Wedding Ceremony

The identical twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Stagg of East Stroudsburg RD 1 were married yesterday afternoon at 1 in the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church in a double wedding ceremony performed by Rev. Frank Wingerter, pastor.

The church was bright with flowers, Walter Schlough, organist, played a recital of wedding music before the ceremony, and the traditional wedding processions, Mrs. Richard Stagg and Mrs. Charles H. Stagg Jr., both sisters-in-law of the brides, were soloists.

Miss Edna Louise Stagg became the bride of Benjamin K. Williams Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Williams, of 86 East Broad St., East Stroudsburg.

Miss Betty Anne Evelyn Stagg became the bride of Victor L. Nuovo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor E. Nuovo of Rochelle, N. Y.

Both of the girls were given in marriage by their father. They were groomed in identical floor-length gowns of ice blue nylon tulle with bodices of Chantilly lace. Their veils of ice blue illusion fell from crowns of velvet forget-me-nots. They both carried cascade bouquets of white gladioli, with roses and baby's breath.

Their maids of honors were both in pink net floor-length dresses, with pink picture hats topped by a large rose, and they carried cascade bouquets of blue delphinium.

The mother of the brides wore a gown of triple sheer navy blue nylon, with a white braided straw hat, and a corsage of orchids.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 75 guests was held in honor of both young couples at Weir's Sunnybrook.

Miss Edna Louise Stagg

Miss Edna Louise Stagg had as her maid of honor, Miss Mary Jane Williams, sister of the bridegroom.

Marylin Able, of East Broad St., East Stroudsburg, was the best man for his nephew, Benjamin K. Williams Jr., Richard Stagg, of Bayside, N. Y., brother of the bride, and James Smith, of Stroudsburg, were ushers.

The bridegroom's mother wore a gown of light blue lace with matching hat and a corsage of orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams will make their home in Georgia where Mr. Williams is now stationed with the United States Navy. He has two more years before he completes his term of service. Before entering the Navy, Mr. Williams was a student at Lehigh University.

His bride attended Bucknell University and was graduated from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College where she majored in secondary education.

ITU Auxiliary Banquet Tuesday

The Woman's International Typographical Union will hold its annual banquet on Tuesday night at 7 in the Elks Club, East Stroudsburg.

Members will meet at 6 o'clock at the CLU Club and go to the Elks Club in a group. Mrs. Christina Spring and Mrs. Emma Knob are co-chairmen in charge of the banquet.

During the short business meeting, the members will vote on International officers.

Miss Betty Anne Stagg

Miss Betty Anne Evelyn Stagg was attended by Miss Nancy Walters, Milford Road, East Stroudsburg, as her maid of honor.

Charles H. Stagg Jr., of Bayside, N. Y., brother of the bride, served as best man for Victor L. Nuovo, Charles Carpenter, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, also of Bayside, and James A. Conyns were ushers.

The bridegroom's mother wore a grey ensemble with a corsage of orchids.

After a wedding trip to Hollywood Hills, in the Adirondacks, Mr. and Mrs. Nuovo will make their home at Bach Court, Hope College in Holland, Mich., where Mr. Nuovo is studying for the ministry. The bride attended East Stroudsburg State Teachers College for one year and Bucknell University for three, where she majored in elementary education.

Christian Pals Picnic Tuesday

The Christian Pals Class of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church will close the year with a box lunch picnic to be held at Roadside, Rest above Bartonville. Each member is asked to bring her own lunch and beverage.

The group will meet there at 6 o'clock Tuesday night, June 9. Anyone wishing transportation may call Mrs. Paul Fetherman, 3171-R. In case of rain or cold weather, the supper will be held at Mrs. Fetherman's home.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

In case of rain—that's the keep-your-fingers-crossed postscript on most announcements of suppers these days. And I imagine lots of mothers have sort of permanent crosses in their fingers from wishing so hard for fine weather for this past weekend.

Anyway it worked, for our brides, our Brownies and our boys. The sun shone on all of them. A night hot maybe, but a good one nevertheless. Don't know whether we had a particularly beautiful bunch of brides this weekend or whether the light was just right, but I think our pictures are beautiful this morning, don't you.

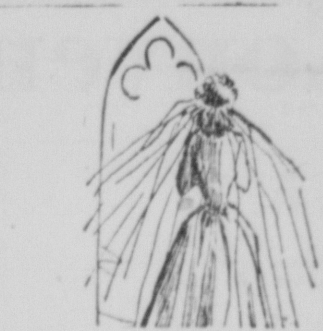

And the Brownies were beautiful when they got home from the rally, too. Sort of magenta from the exercise and a little black and blue from the tumblers, maybe, but starry-eyed at such a mammoth party all of their own.

Our Boy Scouts—well, they were beautiful, too, at least in their mothers' eyes, setting off on their all-male safari. Fortunately no mothers disgraced themselves by crying, and they all professed that this was going to give them a vacation, too.

And then went home to take the shoes out of the middle of the living room floor for the last time for three weeks, and ask every ten minutes, "I wonder how far they are now?"

County Brownies Have Rally Skating Party On Saturday

Brownies, 125 strong, took to wheels on Saturday morning for the county-side Brownie outing held at the CLU Memorial Park. From 10 until 12, then skated at the Stroud Roller Rink in one merry round of Brownies.

At noon a picnic lunch was held outdoors, and was followed by group singing, and entertainment. Mrs. Russell Harmon's Troop 25 presented skits "Fables in Brownie Land", directed by Mrs. S. M. Monatt, Mrs. Woodrow Fisher's Stroudsburg troop and Mrs. Harry Heller's East Stroudsburg Troop had prepared special songs.

There was excellent representation from all 11 Brownie troops in the county, including those from Mount Pocono, Brodheads, Swiftwater, Shawnee, Delaware Water Gap, Marshall's Creek, Tannersville, Clearview and the Stroudsburgs.

The program closed about 2 p. m. with a huge friendship circle on the green. Troop leaders and troop mothers cooperated in the program which was directed by Mrs. Russell Balmer in the absence of Mrs. A. W. Munson who had planned the rally.

Mrs. Camille Harvey, county executive secretary of the Girl Scouts, announced plans for the three-week Day Camp which will be held at Camp Lloyd Treble on the weeks beginning June 22, June 29 and July 6.

Registration for both Brownies and Intermediate Girl Scouts will be held on Tuesday and Thursday of this week between 2 and 4 p. m. at the Girl Scout House. Any Girl Scouts interested in the camping program have been asked to visit the Girl Scout House on Sarah Street on those days.

Miss Dolores Hickman Weds Stanley Siegfried Here

Bushkill. Miss Dolores R. Hickman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hickman, of Bushkill, became the bride of Stanley O. Siegfried, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Siegfried of 172 Spring St., East Stroudsburg on Saturday, June 6, at 11:30 a. m. at St. Matthews Roman Catholic Church, East Stroudsburg.

Rev. Francis Barrett performed the ceremony. The church was decorated with bouquets of snapdragons, peonies and gladioli. Mrs. William Hannas was organist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin, with a bodice of Princess lace. There was a Peter Pan collar, long sleeves ending in ruffles at the wrist, and the lace of the bodice continued in inserts at the top of the skirt.

The bride's finger-tip veil fell from a sweetheart crown, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses with an orchid in the center.

Miss Florence Holmes of Elm-hurst, L. I., was her maid-of-honor. She wore a gown of pale yellow net over yellow satin, with a yellow picture hat and carried a bouquet of blue orchids.

The bridesmaids: Mrs. Warren Hickman, of Matamoras, Mrs. William Gessner, of Philadelphia; and Mrs. Ralph Siegfried, all wore gowns of turquoise net over turquoise satin with matching picture hats and bouquets of yellow orchids.

Kenneth Siegfried of Wilmington, Del., was his brother's best man and the ushers were Warren Hickman, Richard Hickman Jr., and Ralph Siegfried.

The bride's mother wore a gown of gray lace over rose taffeta, with a gray hat trimmed with tiny pink roses, white accessories

Miss Marion Curran Bride Of Joseph W. Distel

Mount Pocono. St. Mary of the Mount Catholic Church at Mount Pocono was the scene of the wedding of Miss Marion G. Curran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew A. Curran of Mount Pocono to Joseph W. Distel, son of the late Joseph and Florence Distel of Philadelphia.

Rev. Robert Gallagher performed the ceremony at 11 on Saturday morning. The church was decorated with white peonies and mixed bouquets of snapdragons. Mrs. Mary Schneider, of Swiftwater, was organist, and Robert Viets, a brother-in-law of the bride, was soloist. He sang: "Mother Dear O Pray for Me"; "Ave Maria" by Gounod; "The Lord's Prayer" and "Panis Angelicus."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over ivory taffeta with its illusion neckline bordered by a deep cowl collar. Her finger-tip veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls and brilliant, and she carried a colonial bouquet.

Mrs. Joan King, sister of the bride, of East Stroudsburg, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of white embroidered nylon over gold taffeta with a scoop neckline, cap sleeves and a short skirt with matching lace mitts and a yellow floral wreath on her hair. Her colonial bouquet was of mixed flowers.

The bridesmaid, Miss Barbara Kraftschik, of Collinswood, N. J., wore peach embroidered nylon over pink taffeta in the same style with a pink floral headpiece and a colonial bouquet of mixed flowers.

The flower girl, a niece of the bride and her god-child, of East Meadow, L. I., wore a pale blue organza gown over blue taffeta with a blue floral headpiece. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Charles K. Distel, of Philadelphia, was his brother's best man, and Raymond Woltrath, of Philadelphia, was the usher.

The bride's mother wore a gown of rose-mauve Chantilly lace in a street length with navy blue accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

A wedding breakfast for 100 guests was held at Johnnie's Pocono Summit Inn, and was followed at 4 in the afternoon by a reception for 200 guests at Idle-

Another Grandson For The Learns

Word has been received here of the birth of an 8 pound son to Rev. and Mrs. Glen G. Waun, born June 2 in Petoskey, Mich. Mrs. Waun is the former Alison M. Learn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale H. Learn, of the Paradise Trail.

The Wauns have an older son, Steven, who is three years old. Mr. Waun is pastor of a church in Petoskey, Mich. and also does considerable broadcasting in Northern Michigan.

Faithful Workers Tues.

The Faithful Workers Class of the Hamilton Union Sunday School will meet at the home of William Lesh on Tuesday night, June 9.

wile Cottage, Pine Hills Road, the home of the bride's parents.

A buffet luncheon was served, followed by dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Distel are going to Virginia Beach for their honeymoon. For traveling the bride wore a wheat colored suit with natural and British tan accessories and a white orchid corsage.

They will make their home at 4632 Mansion St., Philadelphia, where the bridegroom is employed by the Budd Company. The bride was formerly employed as secretary at the Mount Pocono office of the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co.

In Case of Rain—

The Anna Logan Society of the General Hospital, which plans a picnic supper at the Stroudsburg Playgrounds tonight at 6, will in case of inclement weather, hold the supper at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church. They planned to transfer it to the YMCA if necessary but demolition work has made that impossible.

Customers seated on Wyckoff's mezzanine were startled the other afternoon by a noise that might have been a crash, and then again, might have been an explosion. It came from the general direction of the women's lounge, and investigation revealed a small boy seated on the floor by an overturned table, mournfully examining a scratch on his leg. Scattered around him were a dozen or more paper cups, which he had climbed up on the table to extricate from a holder near the hand basin.

"My goodness," said the Wyckoff employee who had hastened to the scene of the catastrophe, "you took quite a tumble didn't you? Would you like a drink?"

The very young man blinked back a threatened shower of tears and nodded. Solicitously, the lady employee administered the water, righted the table, and escorted the lad, with the cups, back to her office where he had a wonderful time drawing pictures, watching the typewriter and adding machines, and asking questions. While the switchboard operator made amplified announcements as to his whereabouts, for the benefit of his mother who, he assured his benefactor, was somewhere in the store, he made himself at home, and insisted on treating everyone to a piece of the candy he had previously purchased.

When all attempts to find his mother had failed, the little man, with the smile of a cherub and a very mischievous gleam in his eyes, wanted to know if anyone had talked on the telephone to his sister. "No," the office staff admitted, "we don't know your sister. Where is she?"

"Oh," said the youngster nonchalantly, "she's home . . . taking care of me."

Just where did you say your mother is? a male executive quizzed.

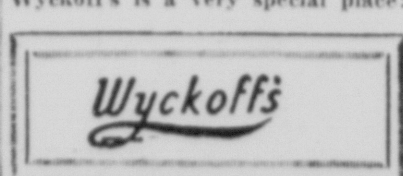

"She's working," the child replied, his eyes growing wide and his face flushing a bit as he realized how unexpectedly he had been caught up.

"Do you know where you live?" the questioners prodded.

Yes, he did . . . and he fell in happily with the idea that someone would drive him home. Grinning happily, he marched away clutching the bag of candy in one hand, the cups in the other, and promising to come back "sometime."

"Sometime" was a bit sooner than anyone had planned, however. Barely had the executive returned to his desk, his columns of figures, and his round of conferences, than a small voice was heard in the distance. "Up here," it was saying, "we go up here." A few seconds later, the youthful adventurer peered around the door, a broad smile on his round face. "Did you find my dime?" he demanded. "I lost it."

There it was, on the rug, so away he went again. On Saturday he was back—dividing his time between the candy and toy departments which are his idea of heaven. I'm not sure that he's discovered the horse in our children's department yet . . . but give him time. A customer's never too young or too old to learn that Wyckoff's is a very special place!

June 30 Deadline For Wheat Acreage

Farmers on land on which no wheat was seeded for any of the years 1951, 1952, and 1953 may apply for a 1954 wheat acreage allotment, according to David H. Griffith, chairman of the Monroe County Production and Marketing Administration Committee.

To be considered for an allotment on a farm which had no wheat seeded for any of those years, the farmer must apply in writing to his county PMA committee by June 30.

Blank application forms are available at the county PMA office for use in filing requests for allotments.

Man Charged After Crash

A charge of drunken driving was made against John E. Fish, 26, of 10 Third St., Stroudsburg, following an accident Saturday night near Minisink Hills.

East Stroudsburg Officers Travis Seese, Louis Caramella and Donald Quick spotted Fish driving in an "erratic manner" and started in pursuit, they said.

Near Minisink Hills Fish "tried to get away," the officers said. He passed three cars on the wet highway, then spun end-for-end three times in attempting to cut back, police said. The car crashed into an embankment.

Police took Fish in custody. He was uninjured. He will be arraigned tonight before Justice of the Peace Herbert G. Bonser, East Stroudsburg, police said.

He was committed to county jail at 11:15 a.m. yesterday, freed yesterday afternoon on $500 bond.

Magician To Perform Today For Benefit

"Master Magician" Josef Smiley will give two performances today at East Stroudsburg Junior High auditorium.

Smiley's appearance is sponsored by the Exchange Club for benefit of its youth charities fund.

Billed a "Marvels of Mystery," the magic show will be seen in a matinee performance at 2:30 this afternoon and again at 8 p.m. to night.

Children will be admitted free to the matinee appearance. Tickets for both performances will be on sale at the door.

The art of magic, says Smiley, is "the oldest art in the world," having begun with Adam's first encounter with the snake in the Garden of Eden.

From this ancient beginning,

Sgt. Gower Sees Atomic Cannon Blast

Sgt. Charles J. Gower, of White Haven, Pa., leaves the shelter of a trench at Camp Desert Rock, Nev., where he witnessed the firing of the atomic cannon.

A member of the 710th Tank Battalion of Fort Campbell, Ky., Gower participated in the latest of atomic maneuvers and was given an extensive indoctrination in atomic warfare.

A veteran of the Korean conflict, he entered the Army in 1946. He is the son of Mrs. Martha Gower of White Haven. His wife, Sally, lives in Blakeslee, Pa.

Y Directors Meet Tonight

The Young Men's Christian Association board of directors will meet at 6 p.m. Tuesday in Wye-koff's room.

Announcement of the meeting was made yesterday by John R. Wilson, executive secretary of the YMCA.

magic has been handed down from father to son, generation to generation with ever-increasing mystery and glamor.

Magie, Smiley notes, has played an important part in the world's literature. Among famous authors who have given credit to magic where credit was due, the magician says, is Tennyson, who conjured up Merlin the Enchanter.

Smiley has studied the Indian fakery and other oriental magic-makers in his lifetime devotion to the art of prestidigitator and make-believe.

Duff, Martin Voted For Additional 50 Millions

Washington, CP — Pennsylvania's senators, Republicans James H. Duff and Edward Martin, voted last week to add nearly 50 million dollars to appropriations for the State, Justice and Commerce Departments.

At the same time they voted against a proposal to provide $9,400,000 for a census of business and manufacturing, which was adopted by the Senate, 41-38. They voted against a proposal, rejected by the Senate 54-24, to provide $40,144,000 in subsidies for construction of four new passenger-cargo vessels.

In the House, Pennsylvania Representatives split along party lines over a proposal to reorganize the Agriculture Department. The vote was on a motion to force consideration of a resolution of disapproval. This was rejected, 261 to 128, which in effect was a vote of approval for the plan.

All of the Democrats voted for the motion and therefore against the plan and all the Republicans voted for the plan and against the resolution.

Airmen To Meet

Members of Flight B, Stroudsburg Air Force Reserve, will meet at 7:30 p.m. at VFW home to night. An Air Force film will be shown and an intelligence report on latest Korean front developments will be made.

Gas Theft Cleared Up By Police

Charged with stealing gas from a truck parked behind Rudy's Grill, East Stroudsburg Elmer W. Wildrick, 27, New Village RD1, N. J., was committed to county jail yesterday.

The larceny occurred about a month ago. East Stroudsburg police spotted the theft, they said, but were unable to catch Wildrick who escaped in a car.

Saturday Officers Travis Seese and Donald Quick took Wildrick in custody in Easton, where he is employed.

He will be arraigned tonight before Justice of the Peace Herbert G. Bonser, East Stroudsburg. Bond was set at $500.

It takes nearly 23 million cows in the United States to supply our milk needs.

Glen Brook Host To Pro-Amateur

Well Known Golfers In Large Field

Glen Brook Country Club will present one of the largest golf tournaments in the history of the course today, when a field of 60 par-battering golfers collide in the Glen Brook Pro-Amateur Tournament.

The field will include some of the biggest names in the Philadelphia area, such as Carman Stepp, Brandywine Country Club; Willie Polumbo, one of the longest hitters in the game today, Kennett Square; Charley Lepre, Haddonfield, N. J. and Johnny Long, former local boy now playing out of DuPont Country Club, Wilmington, Del.

Pros from the local area will also be represented in the play-for-pay bracket of the tournament. The list includes Harry Obitz, Stan Dudas, Jack Ryan, Dick Farley and Al Nelson, all of Shawnee; Jack Cuttle, Pocono Manor; Tony Midiri, Glen Brook; Harold Calloway, Skytop, and Ted Beadle, Buck Hill Falls.

Local Entries

Amateurs of local note playing in the tournament are Joe Snow, Buck Hill; John Fish, Glen Brook; Harold Storm, Glen Brook; August "Auggie" Lckwuch, Glen Brook; "Budd" Brown, Pocono Manor; Ray "Pike" Fredericks, Glen Brook; Grant Nitrauer, Glen Brook; Bill Rusk, Glen Brook, and Chet Ogradowski, current club champion at Glen Brook.

The first foursome is scheduled to leave the tee at 9:30 a.m. and the final group is slated to tee-off at 2:30 p.m.

Three states will be represented in the large field.

Today's tournament will be held rain or shine.

Indians Take Two From A's

Cleveland (AP) — The Cleveland Indians extended their winning streak to five games yesterday by winning a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Athletics, 4-4 and 4-3, and sweeping a four-game series from the A's.

Feller Wins

Bob Feller, idle since Memorial Day when he suffered a pulled side muscle, posted his first victory since April 26 in the opener with the help of home runs by Bill Glynn, Joe Tipton and Larry Doby.

Games To Be Played-Or Else

Ashland (AP) — The Eastern Pennsylvania Interscholastic Football Conference adopted a new rule prohibiting cancellation of league games.

Penalty

The conference, meeting Saturday, adopted an amendment to the league constitution, calling for a two-year suspension for any school which cancels a league game, or agreeing with another member to cancel it.

Pettit Returns To Minor League

Pittsburgh (AP) — Paul Pettit, the $100,000 bonus baby of the Pittsburgh Pirates, is back in the minor leagues again.

Option

The Pirates optioned the 21-year-old southpaw with a one-two re-echo to New Orleans of the Southern Association.

First, Fourth Wards Win In Bangor

Brian Jones opened the Bangor Little League season by throwing a no-hit, no-run game against the Third Ward, as the First Ward won the opening half of a doubleheader, 11-0, here at Memorial Park.

It was the first no-hit, no-run game in the short history of Little League baseball in Bangor.

The second game of the doubleheader found the Fourth Ward sinking the second Ward by an 8-2 count, behind the four-hit pitching of Fritz Viglione. Viglione also retired 13 batters on strikes.

Jones was the entire game in the lid-lifter as the youthful right hander struck out 15 batters, including the first 11 men to face him.

Wet Grounds Hits Baseball In Local Area

Rain and wet grounds put a damper on area baseball for the second straight weekend yesterday.

Four of five games in the Pocono Mountains League were washed down the drain, while Redders won over Bushkill, 16-4, in the only contest played. The postponed games include Tannersville and Ansonia at Henryville; Saylorsburg at Barrett; Kunkletown at Lake Harmony and Tobyhanna at West End A.C.

All Three

All three outings in the Blue Mountain League were also put off to another day. The schedule called for Pocono A.C. to play Roseto at East Stroudsburg Playground; Portland to invade Tatamy and Johnsonville to go through its paces at Martins Creek.

Pocono A.C. and Roseto are scheduled to play today, at East Stroudsburg Playground, at 6:15 p.m. Bill "Bump" Meizger will do the pitching for Pocono A.C., while John Vybhal probably does the hurling for Roseto.

Action on the Pocono Mountains Association was also nil yesterday. Games postponed were Tobyhanna at Gouldsboro, Daleville at Newfoundland, Maple Lake at Mount Cobb and Hamlin at Moscow.

The contests will be made up as parts of doubleheaders later in the campaign.

New Circuit Under Discussion

Frederick, Md. (AP) — Formation of a new baseball league was discussed here yesterday by representatives from six cities in Maryland and Pennsylvania.

Attending

Attending the session were persons from Lancaster, Allentown, Sunbury, and Chambersburg, Pa., and Salisbury and Frederick, Md. Cambridge, Md. sent word it's interested.

Rain Halts Stock Car Grind At Stroudsburg Speedway After Six Laps Of Initial Event

Rain washed Stroudsburg Speedway out of business on Saturday night for the second straight night and a large crowd was sent home with rain checks for a future racing card.

The half-mile dirt track located next to the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg airport, ran off six laps of the first qualifying heat when the rains arrived amidst the worst electrical storm of the spring season.

Six laps was enough action to feature the first crackup of the campaign at Stroudsburg Speedway, "Snokey" Dangler, the one-legged daredevil from Reading, almost demolished his car on the first turn as he skidded into the guard rail.

Approximately 55 cars were on hand for Saturday's card.

Stroudsburg Speedway opens its gates once again on Thursday, at 8:30 p.m., when the Lucky

Horan Hell Drivers bring their outstanding thrill show to town.

This is the same thrill show that drew a "standing room only" crowd to the speedway last summer.

Stock cars will return to Stroudsburg Speedway next Saturday, at 8:30 p.m.

In the future all Saturday night cards rained off the books will be held on Sunday night, at the same time.

Little Bigger League Opens Season Today

Little Bigger League of the Stroudsburg will lift the lid on its 1953 baseball season today, with a single game on tap at Gordon Giffels field. The contest is scheduled to begin at 6:15 p.m.

The opening encounter will send Barrett Township against International Boiler Works, with the game scheduled to go seven innings.

Players in the circuit range from 13 to 15 years of age.

Ceremonies

Harvey Blair, International Boiler Works, and Kenneth Barthold, Monroe Silk Mill, will form the opening day battery in pre-game ceremonies.

The second game of the season will take place at East Stroudsburg Playground tomorrow, when Worthington Mower and Line Material collide, at 6:15 p.m.

No admission will be charged for the games.

Hart Defeats Fletcher

Manchester, England (AP) — Davis Hart, of Coral Gables, Fla., defeated Britain's Helen Fletcher, 5-7, 6-1, 7-5, in the finals of the Northern Ireland Lawn Tennis tournament on Saturday.

Richards Wins Derby

Epsom, England (AP) — Sir Gordon Richards, England's top jockey rode Pinza to a four-length victory over Queen Elizabeth's Aureole in the 147th Epsom Derby on Saturday.

Ol' man river works overtime

Putting river water to work cooling inert gas is another recent application of p-k special purpose, continuous flow heat exchange equipment.

685 gpm of river water at a maximum temperature of 84°F is used to cool 11,000 cfm of the gas recovered from normalizing furnaces from 900°F to 150°F. This is one of 16 identical exchangers, 36-in. shell diameter, by 18-ft. tube length, constructed in accordance with ASME standards. A maximum pressure drop of 1 lb. per sq. in. is maintained by dividing the gas flow. The unit contains approximately 3 miles of 3/4-in. cupro-nickel tubing. It is p-k Type E construction with full floating head and removable tube bundle—a typical example of p-k thermal engineering and mechanical design.

Will standard equipment meet your needs?

p-k has designed and built dependable special purpose heat exchangers for years. This engineering and fabricating experience works to your advantage when you ask p-k for ideas on heat exchange problems. Your process may require special equipment, but, on the other hand, standard p-k heat exchangers may be your answer. If you can use standard units, available in many sizes and types of shell and tube arrangements, you can save on delivery time and engineering costs.

First step is to write now for Catalog No. 12 which provides all essential engineering data on heat exchangers and other processing equipment.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Art Smith, basketball and baseball coach at Polk High School, will direct the summer recreation program in Newfoundland this morning. Registration of youngsters will take place today, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The recreation setup is part of the education extension program, and will run everyday for the remainder of the summer. Smith is a native of Wayne County and resides in Newfoundland during the summer months.

Ernest "Pete" Arend, young golfer from the University of Virginia, advanced to the semi-final round of the French Amateur Golf Tournament before losing to a local player. This is the same youngster who tied for medalist honors in the Shawnee Invitation Tournament, at Shawnee-on-Deleware, last month. Arend, a resident of Elmhurst, N.J., shared medalist honors on the local course with Ellis Taylor, veteran competitor from Wilmington, Del., as each shot a 73. Arend is considered one of the brightest rising stars in the amateur golf world.

Rain raised havoc with stock car racing at Stroudsburg Speedway for the second straight Saturday, but this time the local track was able to run off six laps of the first qualifying heat. It was just time enough to feature the biggest accident of the season, as "Smookey" Dangler banged up his car on the first turn guard rail. A large crowd was on hand despite the threatening weather through the late afternoon hours and remained seated until rain made further driving impossible.

The new-found interest at Stroudsburg Speedway was brought to the front after the race, when it was announced that ticket stubs would be honored next week or money would be returned to anyone wishing cash value for the used tickets. Only 17 people came to the money refund window, and most of them announced that previous plans for next Saturday was the reason they were requesting their money back. Approximately 55 entries were primed for Saturday's show at Stroudsburg Speedway, proving that the local track has gone big time.

Authorities at the half-mile dirt oval located next to the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg Airport had an airplane advertising the Saturday stock car event. Mendy Rudolph, young official who works many basketball games involving East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, has joined the National Basketball Association list of officials. Mendy's father, Harry, is commissioner of officials in the Eastern Basketball League and is now general manager of the Wilkes-Barre baseball team. Mendy limits his officiating to basketball, while his father has worked basketball, football and basketball.

The wrestling situation at Wilkes College may improve in the near future. Wilkes has signed John Reese, who directed Kingston High to two consecutive District Two PIAA wrestling championships, as its new wrestling mentor. Wilkes is an annual foe of ESSTC. The presence of Mike Bonser on the Redders roster will make the club a real pennant contender in the Pocono Mountains League. Mike, who formerly toiled for Tannersville, is one of the best receivers in the circuit and certainly will add balance to the Redders squad.

There is plenty of interest in the Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament to be held at Glen Brook Country Club today. There are several well known pros from the Philadelphia area and the field also contains all the well known pros and most of the top amateurs from this section. Action will take place rain or shine. Tothanna A.C., an entry in the Pocono Mountains Association, made $150 clear on its dance held last Friday. The club is now debt free and has $103 in its treasury.

Reeders Clubs Bushkill To Take Over Second Place

Bonser Blanks Rival For Six Innings

Reeders — Bushkill and Reeders braved the elements on the latter's home field yesterday and Reeders moved into undisputed possession of first place with a solid 16-1 victory over Bushkill, in a Pocono Mountains League game.

John Bonser, young right hander, hurled six scoreless innings for Reeders, before Larry Butz, Pocono High student, pitched the last three frames for the winning aggregation. All four Bushkill runs were scored against Butz.

Reeders, taking a chance on playing after an all-morning rain, was rewarded with plenty of sunshine and a host of runs during the afternoon hours.

The home team failed to score only three times in eight innings, while Bushkill crammed all its runs in the seventh and eighth rounds.

Big Frames
Reeders opened with three runs in the first frame, added two more in the second, piled up three in the fourth and then topped off the scoring with four markers in each of the sixth and eighth rounds.

Bushkill picked up one marker in the seventh and three in the eighth.

Bob Schick led Reeders' 15-hit attack with three safeties, including a triple, in four trips to the plate. Larry Butz, Bill Lehr, Karl Butz, Sam Bonser and Mike Bonser each delivered two hits to the attack.

Dick Transue, Jack Sommers and Harold White each hit safely twice for Bushkill.

Braves Return To Top Spot With Two Wins Over Phillies

Philadelphia, (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves sprayed the outer reaches of Connie Mack Stadium with home runs yesterday to win both ends of a double header from the Philadelphia Phillies and regain first place in the National League.

Brown Leads Bosox To Nod Over Tigers

Detroit, (AP) — Pitcher "Skinny" Brown, who isn't skinny, made three fat hits—a single, double and home run—and knocked in three runs yesterday and hurled the Boston Red Sox to a 4-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Brown gave up eight hits in posting his fourth victory against two losses. At one point he retired 11 straight batters.

Good Day

The 180-pound right hander who learned to hit as a shortstop, slammed a two-run homer in the second inning and a run-scoring fly in the eighth. In between he slapped a single and a double to help saddle Art Houtteman with his fifth loss against two victories.

Houtteman, who gave up 13 hits, was the Tigers' last winning pitcher. That was back on May 22. Boston .021 000 010—4 13 0 Detroit .000 010 000—1 8 3

Cubs Down Giants Twice

New York, (AP) — The last-place Chicago Cubs snapped a six-game losing streak, and aided by a half dozen home runs, won a double header from the New York Giants yesterday, 10-5, and 5-2.

Five Pitchers

The Giants used five pitchers and three of their four catches in the first game, and in an effort to stem the Cubs.

The Cubs hit four home runs in the first game, two by Ralph Kiner, who was traded to the club only three days ago. Dee Fondy and Eddie Miksis also patted one each, while in the second game, Clyde McCullough and Eddy Jackson each got one.

Reds Sweep Doubleheader From Pirates

Pittsburgh, (AP) — Starting pitcher Joe Nuxhall and Ted Kluszewski hit home runs as the Cincinnati Reds beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 11-6, in a free scoring second half of yesterday's doubleheader after taking the opening game 6-1. Nuxhall's nine-hit pitching of "Bud" Podbielan.

Nuxhall's homer, his first of the season, came with two aboard in the fifth. But he had to get help after issuing three walks and a single in the seventh.

Cincinnati scored all of its runs in the fourth and fifth innings. Knuckleballer Johnny Lindell, who started for the Pirates, was blasted from the mound by a five-run outburst in the fourth.

Six More

In the next inning the Reds collected six more runs. Bob Schultz, who started the first game for the Pirates but was driven from the mound in the fourth inning took over the pitching chores from Elroy Face.

The Pirates pushed over one run in the sixth, then took advantage of five walks, an error and a hit to tally five times in the seventh. In the first game Podbielan kept his nine hits scattered and stayed out of trouble until the ninth when he issued three walks—one with the bases loaded to force in the only Pirate score.

Yesterday's double victory gave Cincinnati a clean sweep of a four-game series with the Pirates, and the longest winning streak of the year. The Reds' best previous "streak" was two in a row.

Dodgers Hand Staley Initial Setback Since Opening Day To Sweep Series From Cards

Brooklyn, (AP) — Brooklyn handed Gerry Staley, St. Louis' ace righthander, his first defeat since opening day, routing the Cardinals, 10-1 yesterday, for a sweep of the three-game series.

Carl Erskine, who had won since his one-hitter in Cincinnati last May 17, doled out only four singles to register his fifth triumph against two defeats. A walk to Solly Hemus and singles by "Red"

Schoendienst and Enos Slaughter in the sixth inning cost the Dodger righthander his shutout. A great catch by Gil Hodges of Stan Musial's line smash, that was turned into a double play, prevented further trouble.

The Dodgers went in for three, scoring three times in the fourth, fifth and eighth. Every player in the starting lineup participated in the 15-hit attack with Jackie Robinson collecting three safeties. The revitalized Hodges continued his batting rampage, crashing his seventh homer and a single.

Homer

Staley, who had won seven in succession since his opening day loss, permitted only one hit in the first three innings, but it was a four-bagger by Hodges in the second that put Brooklyn in front, 1-0.

Brooklyn went to work on Staley in the fourth, clubbing the righthander for four hits that produced their first trio of runs. A walk to "Duke" Snider and singles by Robinson and Hodges filled the bases. Carl Furillo drove in two with a single through the box and he scored later when Bobby Morgan looped a single to right.

Two singles, a walk, hit batter and the first of two errors by Cardinal shortstop Solly Hemus produced three more Dodger runs in the fifth. This time, Mike Clark was the victim after Staley had been taken out for a fruitless pinch-hitter in the top of the inning.

The Dodgers got their final cluster of runs in the eighth. St. Louis .000 001 000—1 4 3 Brooklyn .010 330 03x—10 15 1

Peach Leaf-Curl Prevalent This Year Because Of Rain; Controlled In Early Spring

By George Abraham

Peach Leaf Curl: If you raise peaches and have noticed a reddening of the foliage, and a tendency of the leaves to crinkle or thicken, you can be pretty sure the trouble is due to a fungus disease known as peach leaf curl. The disease is particularly bad this year due to the heavy rains. Young trees may be killed outright. Diseased leaves die and drop off in June, and the tree replaces them with a new growth of healthy leaves.

Control: Although the disease is destructive, it is very simple to check it by using a dormant spray in early spring. The fungus overwinters in the form of spores on the bud scales and twigs. One application of lime sulfur or bordeaux mixture applied any time during the dormant period, will control peach leaf curl. Most failures to control leaf curl disease result from not applying the spray before the buds swell. Every bud should be hit with the spray for perfect control.

Evergreen Notes: Evergreens can be pruned anytime you have shears in your hand. A little trimming each year will prevent the necessity of "butchering" the plants later on. Prune the soft growth and the ends of the branches of yews and spreading junipers to thicken the foliage growth and to prevent the plant from becoming too tall or too wide.

Secretary Of Commerce, Andrew J. Sordoni Will Conduct PMF Meeting Here

Highway safety, legislation and travel will be among the subjects to be discussed in reports to be given next Thursday at the opening session of the 47th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation to be held at Pocono Manor Inn, Pocono Manor.

Officers to make reports are: State Secretary of Commerce Andrew J. Sordoni, of Wilkes-Barre, president of the Federation; R. B. Maxwell, of Harrisburg, secretary-manager, and Walter E. Burns, of Harrisburg, treasurer.

Reports will also be heard from the chairman of standing committees.

Leroy Dangler, president of the Pocono Mountains Motor Club, will extend greetings to delegates at the opening business session on Thursday morning, while the welcoming address will be delivered by John M. Crandall, general manager of Pocono Manor Inn and chairman of the resort committee of the Pennsylvania Hotels Association.

The president's dinner to the members of the PMF executive committee will get pre-convention activities underway on Wednesday night.

E. L. Schmidt, State Secretary of Highways, will speak at the Thursday afternoon session on the subject, "Pennsylvania's Highways—Present and Future."

Secretary of Highway Schmidt's talk will be followed by a showing of the film, "Maryland Road Test", and the presenting of awards in the membership contest conducted by the PMF during its 1952-53 fiscal year.

Principal speaker at the banquet on Thursday night will be Ralph Thomas, president of the American Automobile Association. President Sordoni will serve as toastmaster.

Prof. Amos E. Neyhart, head of the Institute of Public Safety, Pennsylvania State College, and road training consultant for the American Automobile Association, will talk at Friday morning's session on the topic, "The PMF's Safety Program."

Following the closing address by Russell E. Slinger, executive vice-president of the American Automobile Association, officers will be elected for the coming year and AAA directors from the Pennsylvania Motor Federation will be nominated.

The Federation and its 57 member AAA clubs represents nearly 460,000 motorists throughout the Commonwealth.

During World War II, he served as a Naval officer and was released to inactive duty as lieutenant commander.

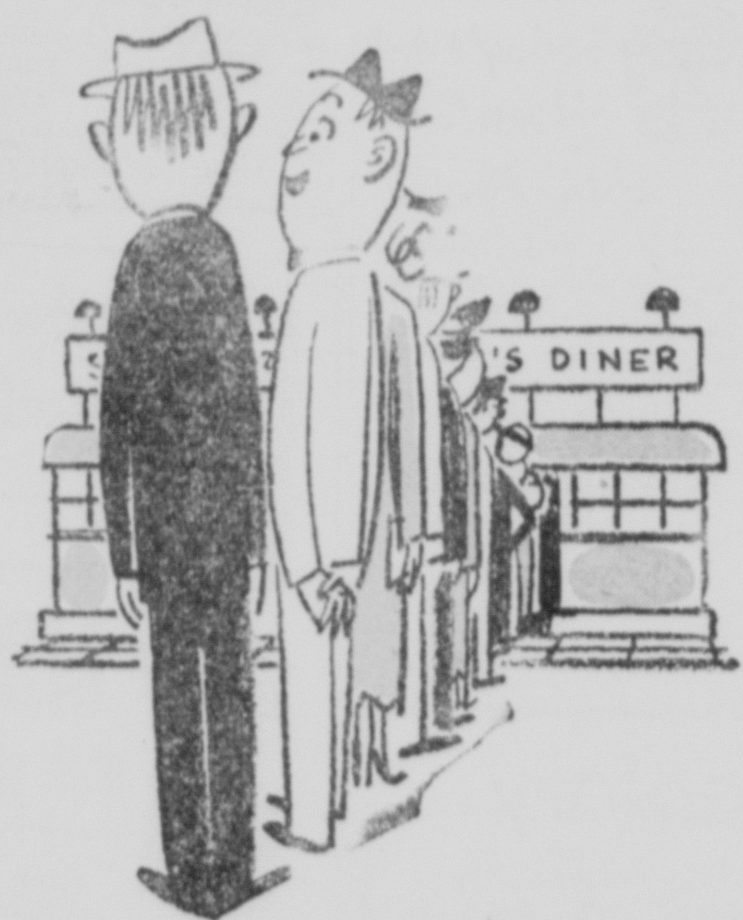

In working with chambers of commerce in the states of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware, Waller is assisting them in establishing programs for a better understanding of the major issues which face the country and the American way of life.

Kiwanis Will Hear Weller

Truman D. Weller, district manager of the Delaware-Hudson district of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, will be the speaker at the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club Wednesday afternoon.

A member of the staff of the National Chamber the past eleven years, Mr. Weller was a newspaper executive seventeen years prior to joining the national organization.

Born a Hoosier, Weller spent his boyhood in Lincoln, Nebraska, where he attended the public schools and graduated from the University of Nebraska with an A.B. degree, having majored in

"It's been this way ever since he put in Carrier Air Conditioning"

That's right. In restaurants and taverns, more people drop in when Carrier Weathermakers are installed. Many of them become steady customers. And bring their friends! They stay longer, checks get larger. And that's just a sample of what Carrier Weathermaker Air Conditioning can do for your business.

But be sure it's Carrier. Carrier is whisper-quiet—won't interfere with conversation. Carrier is economical—efficient design uses less electricity and water. Carrier is compact—needs little of your valuable floor space. And it's easily installed! A call to us now can do wonders for your business!

Wilson Reports GIs Plan To Create Y Boys' Town For Youth Of South Korea

Two raffles, held on successive pay-days by enlisted men of the United States Army's 5th Regimental Combat Team in Korea, plus contributions from their officers, have raised $18,000 to found a Boys' Town on an island in the Han River, twelve miles from Seoul, John R. Wilson, general secretary of the YMCA here said last night.

The Boys' Town will be a memorial to men of the 5th Regimental Combat Team killed in the Korean fighting. The soldiers voted to turn the money over to the Seoul YMCA, which will operate the project.

The Combat Team's effort is being boosted by $3,700 from Third Army, stationed at Fort McPherson, Georgia.

This information was received here yesterday by Mr. Wilson in a message from his organization's headquarters in New York.

"This Boys' Town in Korea has been planned as a combined farm and industrial school for boys," Mr. Wilson said. "Thirty-five boys have already been placed in an encampment on the island site. Enrollment will be 120 by June, and 200 in November." The project, he added, is expected to be self-supporting within eighteen months.

A bronze plaque, to be placed at the Boys' Town, now is being made in Japan. It will read: "In Memoriam—to the Devoted Men of the 5th Regimental Combat Team Who Gave Their Lives for the Cause of Liberty and Freedom everywhere."

The YMCA in Korea was organized in 1902 with help of the United States and Canadian YMCA's, which jointly conduct the movement's "World Service" program of overseas aid. Through its participation in World Service activities, the YMCA here has been helping to support the work of the Y in Korea.

The Communists put a torch to the YMCA building in Seoul and burned it to the ground early in the Korean war.
